Allison Keefe Appointed to National Government Services' Website Redesign Steering Committee

Allison Keefe, director of outpatient revenue at UCFS, was appointed to the National Government Services, Inc., website redesign steering committee.

“We selectively recruited a panel of nine Medicare providers from multiple jurisdictions and lines of business to offer insight based on their claims and operational challenges and experience,” said Dave Marshall, National Government Services vice president and general manager of government administrative contracts. “This steering committee has been instrumental in the content, design and overall functionality of our website, NGSMedicare.com.”

National Government Services has served as a Medicare contractor with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) since 1966. National Government Services serves nearly 27 million people with Medicare in 23 states and five U.S. territories. The improvements made to the NGSMedicare.com website will allow NGS to serve their providers better and create efficiencies that do not exist today.

“To be as inclusive as possible, we reached out to various providers for their input while redesigning our site,” said Dale Hite, director of sensitive technology at National Government Services. “The insight of people like Allison is invaluable in helping us shape a better experience for all providers. Through her willingness to help, we are able to focus more clearly on our corporate value of being easy to do business with.”
